Honoring the Community of All Life

September 22, Sunday, 10:30-11:30a – What would it look like to live in a human society that honored all life? Our UU principles hold dear a "respect for the interconnected web", but does this always inform our other principles, such as valuing democratic processes, or encouragement in our personal spiritual path? This morning we'll experiment with adopting new perspectives and thinking outside the box that we've been given through culture-at-large. We will learn to speak for the unheard voices of the world, so that we may truly learn to live in balance. –Rev. Fa Jun, Minister

Board Update

Greetings, beloved community! Here is a quick update from the board's September meeting. Some months are lighter than others!

In building and grounds news, the new shade cloth is scheduled to be up within a week or two. Prepare to be barraged by fewer olives.

You may have noticed some stressed and overdry plants on our grounds. Ron and Rick have identified and repaired the irrigation problem.

The monthly Building and Grounds work party needs more volunteers. Please contact Ellen Hill if you are interested. This event takes place the last Friday morning of each month.

You can access the minutes of board meetings at the UUFLG website (Administration/Administration and Governance/Board of Trustees Minutes). You are also welcome to attend the meetings, which are usually held the second Thursday of each month at 7p in the office, and to ask your board members questions at any time! At present, your trustees are Linda Osborne (president), Karen O'Brien (vice president), Lynn Golbetz (secretary), Rick Roberts (treasurer), and Ron Kirkland (trustee at large).

Send announcements to admin@uuflg.org by Tuesday of that week's edition. Announcements are edited for brevity, clarity, and style.

If reading this on our website or as a printed copy and you would like to receive future editions in email, send a request to admin@uuflg.org.
