Service "Uncoupling Politics and Religion"

Sun., 8/12, 10:30-11:30a – If there were ever two off-limits subjects for a friendly conversation, they're religion and politics. What is it about these two domains that creates such fertile ground for vehement opposition? There's something about both politics and religion that tends to lead us away from connection and empathy, and toward opposition and misunderstanding. This morning, we'll find out what that something is, and what we can do about it to create more kindness and connection in all our relationships. –Rev. Fa Jun

Amplify Sundays!

We could still use help with sound on Sundays. This consists of setting up the mics for the service team, giving our hearing-impaired congregants audio headsets, and controlling the sound level in the sanctuary. If willing, please let Brady Williams (bradywilliams@live.com), Lynn Golbetz (lynn golbetz@comcast.net) or one of our current Sound Technicians know, and you'll be trained on the simple steps to amplify Sundays!
